God is able

Now to him who is able to do immeasurably more than all we ask or imagine, according to his power that is at work within us, to him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus throughout all generations, for ever and ever! Amen.

Dean of Students and Formation Announcement

The Board is excited to announce that we have hired Todd Harris as Dean of Students and Formation. As you know, we've been searching for someone to help us continue to grow and equip students to love, learn, and live Christ. The Board and Staff met Todd over the summer, and he again visited in September. We found that he was a good fit for our school and staff and will help us continue to grow. Todd will join NLCS on November 3. Please warmly welcome Todd and his wife, Lisa, as they become a part of our community. We thank God for his faithfulness. Below is a note from Todd.

Greetings, New Life friends! I am beyond delighted to be joining the NLCS community in a few short weeks; I look forward to beginning to get to know each of you, and especially to participating in the good work that God has begun among you.

I've been working in classical Christian education since 1999, when I got my first teaching job leading a combined fifth and sixth-grade classroom. I've worked as a teacher and/or an administrator at schools in Delaware, Texas, Oregon, Illinois, and Wyoming, and the main subjects I've taught are Bible/Theology and Latin. I've also been a pastor and a youth pastor along the way; I earned my M.Div. from Westminster Theological Seminary in Philadelphia.

My wife's name is Lisa; she's a published author and teaches online for Southern New Hampshire University's graduate programs in English and creative writing. We have four grown daughters, scattered far and wide these days; they live in Illinois, North Carolina, New Mexico, and Massachusetts.

I cherish the classical Christian education movement, and I'm excited about the ways it's growing in our generation. I'm especially excited to see it do its work among students and families at New Life! There's nothing I love more than to see students being stretched as they work with challenging material, learning to depend on God's grace and the gospel, encouraging and being encouraged by their classmates, and giving God the glory for everything they achieve. It's a profound privilege to be part of this work.

See you soon!

Yours,

Todd
